FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AMERICAN DANCE FESTIVAL SEEKS FILMS FOR 17TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL SCREENDANCE FESTIVAL

Durham, NC, January 24, 2012 – The American Dance Festival (ADF) announces a call for submissions for the 17th Annual International Screendance Festival (ISF) to take place during the 2012 ADF season. The ISF was created as a platform to showcase recent developments in the field, as well as historically relevant work, and since its inception in 1996 has screened more than 320 dance films by international filmmakers from over 20 countries.

Directed by Emmy nominated director, filmmaker, and curator, Douglas Rosenberg, the ISF continues to showcase the field’s newest and most promising works that highlight the incredible fusion between cinematographic skill and choreographic vision. Since the early 1970’s the ADF has remained a leader in the genre of Screendance, starting with the earliest “Dance for Television” workshops and continuing on to produce numerous documentaries that investigated the developing relationship between dance and film.

Silvina Szperling, former ISF participant and current Director of the Festival Internacional VideoDanzaBA in Argentina, says, “My experience at ADF with the Screendance Festival not only gave me tools to pursue my career as a video-dance maker, but also inspired me to start a festival in my city of Buenos Aires. This action, in time (more than 15 years), initiated a Screendance wave that has spread all over Latin America. It was truly an unforgettable summer.”

The ISF seeks work of highest artistic quality that pushes the boundaries of dance and its relationship to the screen. All entries will be adjudicated by a panel of filmmakers and choreographers, and selected works will be screened during the 2012 ADF season (dates TBA). Certificates of Distinction may be awarded to works of exceptional merit.

Entries should be submitted in one of the following categories:

- Choreography for the Camera—original work made specifically for video or film or re-staged for the camera;
